My dear Robinson:-

I was extremely sorry to read in this morning's paper that you had finally decided to go to Philadelphia. I had a lerking hope that you might decide to remain, though I knew the pull was strong for you in that direction. Believe me that I am very sincere when I say that we shall miss you very much, and I think there is no man in Presbytery who is so valuable in judgment concerning Presbyterial business and procedure. Personally I shall miss you also, and wish that you were going to remain with us.

Will you please give my kind regards to Mrs. Robinson and accept every good wish for yourself in your future work.

As ever,

Sincerely yours,

Murray Shipley Howland

My Dear Mr. Robinson –

I cannot resist my desire to tell you how much I regret that you are to leave Syracuse. I have always esteemed you highly as a man and a minister. While I have been extremely negligent in church attendance I can say in palliation mitigation that I have gone nowhere else. Please remember me as one of your sincere friends and if you are born in sorrow or trouble (which is not all improbable) do not hesitate to call upon me and anything I can do will be offered with a free hand and a willing heart.

Very Truly Yours,
T. E. Hancock

My dear Dr. Robinson;-

It is with great pleasure that I have listened to your most helpful sermons these past few weeks. These plain talks to young men have been most helpful to me, and most especially the one to-night. The lesson "Wait," is the one I feel I need most.

At present I am trying to make my voice earn me a living, and, being young and new to Philadelphians it is most discouraging at times.

I ask your prayers that God may help me "wait and work".

Most sincerely yours

Horace R Hood

My dear Dr. Robinson:

I broke away last week for a few days in the woods beyond the reach of communication. I have had very little vacation this summer, although I have been very comfortably established here; and I took the only chance afforded for a short outing. On this account my answer to your letters has been somewhat delayed.

I thank you cordially for your friendly and encouraging words. I did not suppose a few months ago that anything would induce me to accept a renomination, -- you probably understand the reason. But as I came close to the question, and I really had to decide it promptly, I realized that I could not refuse to run if a renomination were offered. Having reached this conclusion, the inquiries coming to me made it necessary to state it. Hence the "situation". It is most gratifying to receive the assurances of confidence which are coming to me from day to day and none are more welcome than those from old-time friends.

I was very glad to meet you last year at Delhi and I wish I could visit the Delaware fair again. But I am beset with invitations and it is a very troublesome matter to deal with them satisfactorily. So many are urging me that I do not see how I can go again to those fairs which I visited last year and for this reason, much to my regret, I cannot accept the cordial invitation to come to Delhi. I am sure you will understand the matter and know that I would come if I could.

I have not the papers here with regard to the conference in Wisconsin to which you refer in recommending Mr. Nicoll's appointment. I will look the matter up on my return to Albany -- I return on Saturday -- and will take the matter under consideration. Of course I remember Mr. Nicoll very well and I should like to give my recommendation in case I can see my way clear to do so.

Hoping to see you in the near future,

and with kindest regards and best wishes I remain,

Very sincerely yours,

My dear Dr. Robinson:

Your cordial letter is at hand and I thank you for this continued evidence of your friendship and confidence. So many were endeavoring to put me in a false position that it seemed necessary that I should make a statement. I endeavored to make it plain and it seems to be understood.

I hope you are enjoying your work in Philadelphia, and that your field of usefulness will continually enlarge.

I thank you for your letter of the 15th instant. I am trying to make arrangements to be present at the Delaware County Fair. The matter will be definitely decided one way or the other very shortly. Livermore Falls, Maine,

W. Courtland Robinson, D. D.,
Phila., Pa.,

Dear Sir:—

In a (Saturday) Public Ledger recently I noticed in the announcement of your church that you are preaching a series of sermons on certain popular sayings. Judging by the topic announced: "Do it while you are young," I would say that the series is a most valuable one, one that I especially would like to hear — but here I am, pastor of the Baptist Church in Livermore Falls, Maine, and so I cannot come!

I am writing this to ask the privilege of reading the sermons of this course, on the same conditions that I borrow books from a Theological Library in Boston, i.e., that I pay postage on the MSS. in both directions, refunding postage from Phila when I return them.

I know this is somewhat unusual, but my only excuse is that I expect to find helpful suggestions in your sermons, and that my constant endeavor is to present to my people thoughts of a most practical, useful sort for everyday life. Thanking you for whatever you may do with my request I am

Sincerely,

W. S. Pollard.

Of course, I do not want to preach your sermons.

Dear Sir:-

Governor Hughes directs me to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 3rd inst., and to thank you for your cordial expressions of good will.

The pressure upon his time just at present is so great, that he asks your indulgence for not replying in person.

My dear Mr. Robinson:-

Pardon my delay in answering your letter of the 10th inst, but I have had so much on my hands that I have been unable to attend to correspondence.

I greatly regretted not seeing you at the dinner, but nothing could be more appreciated than your very kind letter. As you say, I am doing the "next thing" to the best of my ability and I am not concerning myself with prophecies. It is hard to realize that so many years have passed since we were together at Delhi and I congratulate you upon the work you are doing and upon the opportunities for important service to which you have been called.
